

How to find the email address of your Google calendar:

Go to your google calendar and click on the settings icon (marked yellow below):

In 'Settings for my calendars' select the calendar you want Project Hours to save hour entries to:

On the settings page, scroll down to the 'Integrate Calendar' chapter. Under 'Calendar ID' you will find the email address (ID) for your calendar (marked in yellow in the below example).

The screenshot shows the 'Settings for my calendars' page. On the left, a sidebar lists various settings categories. The 'Integrate calendar' option is selected. The main content area displays the 'Integrate calendar' section, which includes the Calendar ID (info@studentsign.net), the Public URL to this calendar, the Embed code, and the Public address in iCal format. The Calendar ID is highlighted in yellow.
